Why is TREX FENCING a better value than wood over time?

..... start with

INITIAL COST

While the upfront price of pressure-treated lumber is low, a Trex investment breaks even after only a few years.

but consider

MAINTENANCE TIME

Wood fences require extensive upkeep—from sanding to staining to painting. Trex was engineered to avoid the constant maintenance.

LONG-LASTING BEAUTY

Nothing compares to the natural patina and heft of wood...except Trex high-performance composite that is made of 95% recycled materials.
